

I cannot believe that Sinclair Broadcasting is at it once again. Actually, I can believe it. And I'm outraged. If Americans are want to decide who to vote for, they can watch the debates, read the candidates plans and platform, etc. But for the media to come in and try to sway public opinion like this is outrageous. This should be stopped. If they want to air a non-biased pro-con segment of each of the candidates, thats one thing---but this is just ridiculous. Just as ridiculous as playing Farenheit 9/11 on the eve of the election---but Pay Per View bowed to public pressure. If Sinclair doesn't bow to public pressure, then the FCC needs to step in. If partisan politics doesn't destroy this country, a partisan media will.
